BISHOP-ELECT PERRY

BISHOP CARLOS LEWIS

3rd SVD bishop named by Vatican

A graduate of St. Augustine Seminary who has served for the last year as superior of the Southern province of the Divine Word Missionaries has been appointed by Pope Paul VI as auxiliary bishop of New Orleans.

Rev. Harold Perry, whose headquarters have been at St. Augustine for the last eight years, thus becomes the first full-blooded Catholic Negro bishop named to serve in the United States.

The appointment of the alumnus of the Divine Word local seminary as a bishop was made known Saturday. On Sunday, the second St. Augustine graduate so honored—Carlos A. Lewis—was consecrated Sunday in Rome as auxiliary bishop of Panama City, Republic of Panama.

First to be chosen was Bishop Joseph O. Bowers of Ghana, West Africa, who was consecrated in Our Lady of the Gulf Church on April 23, 1953.

Bishop-elect Perry was in Rome when his appointment was announced. He expects to return in time for the official installation of the newly appointed archbishop of New Orleans—Philip Hannan—Oct. 13. He has expressed the wish to have his consecration service on Jan. 6, which would coincide with the date of his ordination to the priesthood in 1944.

Archbishop-elect Hannan and Archbishop John Patrick Cody, formerly of New Orleans and now of Chicago, jointly announced Father Perry's selection.

Rooms, pay, up for hospital

Increases in hospital room rates and salary adjustments for employees estimated to cost about $800 a month were approved by trustees of Hancock General Hospital at a specially called meeting last Wednesday, Sept. 28.

A hospital spokesman said the latest meeting was called so the increases would be made for the start of the current fiscal year which began Oct. 1.

The motion to hike the room rates and pay was introduced by John D. Rutherford, Jr., treasurer, seconded by J.C. Muffray, secretary, and carried unanimously. Voting aye in addition to these two were Joe Duckworth, president of the board, T.T. Rebol and Hubert Thigpen. Trustees absent were Clifton Saucier and Cornelius Ladner.

Under the new schedule room rates go up from $12.50 to $15 for semi-private rooms, from $15 to $18 for private rooms and from $15 to $20 for isolation rooms when used as such.

The salary increases are in increments of $5 or $10 a month, depending on the job classification, plus additional increases for specialized personnel. Licensed practical nurses, nurses aides, dietary personnel and maids are to be raised, starting with the Oct. 15 pay day, at a rate of $5 a month until they reach the new maximum schedules established by the board.

Registered nurses on the staff, now drawing $300 to $320 a month, will be raised to $350 and $360 and $10 a year to a maximum of $400.

Administrator Thomas O. Logue said yesterday that a survey of room rates and salaries of neighboring hospitals showed Hancock General's action had placed this hospital on about the same level as the others. He noted that the new room rates make provision for the 50 cent day additional charge for telephone.

H.G. Dean of Beat 1 asked that a traffic light also be placed in Pearlington at U.S. 90 and Rt. 604.

One appointment on the board of trustees of Hancock General Hospital was cleared up when Supervisor Charles Lavinghouse of Beat 3 nominated Clifton Saucier to another term as his beat's member. This carried unanimously. No action was taken on designation of two members at large—the regular terms of Cornelius Ladner and John D. Rutherford, Jr., both expiring at this time. The term of Hubert Thigpen as Beat 2 member expired last year. Under hospital by-laws, trustees continue to serve until their successors are named.

Waveland seeks big dig bid bond

Mayor Garfield Ladner was authorized Tuesday night by Waveland's aldermen to execute acceptance of the U.S. Public Health Service's offer of $177,000 toward cost of the town's proposed sewerage treatment plant. Estimated cost of the plant is $595,000.

At the same time town council decided to hold up action on a bid amounting to $4,250, by C.A. Hurst Construction Co., Laurel, from constructing a new and longer natural gas conduit under U.S. 90 at Waveland Avenue. The change is made necessary by the four-laning of the U.S. route.

Only other bid on the project was by Leon D. Mitchell, Piquette, and was $9,000. Hurst's bid would have been accepted had it been accompanied by a bid bond of five per cent as set forth in the specifications. As it is, if Hurst can provide the necessary performance bond, the board indicated it would waive the technicality. Otherwise, it will re-advertise the project.

Only other major action was passage of Ordinance 33, which is needed to permit the town to authorize some road changes in the Whispering Pine-Lakeside Subdivision area. The changes will permit better access to the subdivisions, particularly during a storm.

Last week the mayor and aldermen sitting on the Board of Adjustment unanimously refused to grant a building permit for a 100 unit apartment at Waveland Avenue and Beach Boulevard. Previously the zoning board had turned down the request for a variance. In both instances, boards gave as their reason the fact that the area was zoned for one-family dwellings.

The apartments were reported to be of the luxury type. Jack Booker, Mobile, was the applicant for the permit.

BAY HIGH P-TA

Bay High School Parents-Teachers Assn., will meet at 8 p.m. on Tuesday in the auditorium, according to Mrs. Rene de Montuzin, president. This is a re-scheduling of the meet postponed by hurricane Betsy and the school's faculty will be introduced at this time.

Piers, washouts, claims keep supervisors awash

The board of supervisors Monday moved on two fronts to speed restoration of the seawall damage from Hurricane Betsy.

First, it called on beach front property owners to wait at least six months to construct any piers in the Mississippi Sound or Bay of St. Louis.

Second, it asked the state highway department to provide U.S. matching funds to repair major washouts on the beachfront road, designated as a federal aid secondary route, estimated at half a million dollars.

Capping off the routine approval of claim dockets at the first meeting of the month were $11,794.77 worth of bills for seawall work during September, at least half of them the result of cleaning up after Betsy.

The resolution asking that piers not be repaired, rebuilt or newly constructed for six months is designed to give county work forces a chance to clear the debris washed onto the beaches in the storm and because of the health hazard said to exist there as a result.

The board really didn't sound very keen about having any more piers erected because of flooding and pilings broken loose by the heavy waters and damaging properties along the shore. Board Attorney Lucien M. Gex said they might issue a blanket order refusing pier owners permission to connect to the seawall but advised the moratorium on building anew so as not to interfere with the clean-up.

Supervisors agreed to submit an estimate of $512,400 damage to federal aid secondary roads to T.C. Robbins, director of the state highway department, on the advice of County Engineer George Wier.

The request figures cost of fixing the beach road at $500,000 with the county to spend $250,000 and the federal government $150,000.

This is necessary, Wier explained, because Gex, Paul B. Johnson, in his request to President Lyndon B. Johnson for disaster relief for Mississippi, under Public Law 875 did not include federal aid roads. This fact came to light as a special disaster relief session for all county officials in Gulfport last Thursday.

Wier's request for assistance on the job, as a federal aid secondary (FAS) project, proposes removal and replacement of damaged concrete and pavement at more or less 1 mile; replacing washed out road bed and base at 5 miles; sealing joints of existing pavement at 10 miles; and placing 1 1/2 inch asphalt surface on all concrete pavement and 4 inches on sidewalks. He suggested using clay gravel fill for the road bed to keep it from leaking, terming that one of the problems in washouts from Betsy.

The engineer said he will reassess the damage this week, following up the first estimate made at the governor's request to determine need for asking (Cont. on Page 5-A.)

Mrs. Charles G. Moreau, widow of the founder of the Sea Coast Echo, died Friday, Oct. 1, in a Jackson hospital where she had been a patient since July 13. She was 88.

The funeral took place Monday morning from Rignam's Fahey-Whitfield with requiem mass at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church and burial in St. Mary's Cemetery. Rev. Thomas White officiated.

Mayor holds little hope for relief

Bay St. Louis apparently isn't going to get much, if any, help under Public Law 875 for principal damage incurred by public property when Hurricane Betsy hit the Mississippi coast Sept. 9-10.

Mayor John A. Scaife said he left a meeting with representatives of the President's Office of Emergency Planning in Gulfport last Thursday after determining this fact.

The information was most confusing and discouraging, Scaife said this week in reporting on the session. He said he secured all the information they could offer municipal officials on disaster relief aid and then left. Since Waveland Mayor Garfield Ladner and Civil Defense Directors Bert Stiefel of the Bay and Joe Griffin of Waveland were there in the same automobile, they left too.

Dolph Kellar, representing the county board of supervisors as its president pro tem, told the Echo he also departed because it appeared the county would get little assistance.

Scaife explained that since there was no damage to amount to anything in city roads and streets there would be no assistance there. The beach front road which is the county's responsibility is classified as a federal aid secondary route and any funds for that must come from a different source.

Major damage to the Bay came in the loss of its two municipal piers and of U.S. 90 and Beach Avenue estimated at $85,000 to $75,000, Scaife reported. And the city already has spent more than $5,000 in clearing up after the hurricane.

Northbound service will be resumed when the combined Gulf Wind and Piedmont Limited arrives at 6:27 p.m. Friday from New Orleans.

For the time being, only these two passenger trains will operate through the Bay so as not to interfere unduly with repairs to the track between here and New Orleans which was badly damaged by the storm. Repairs to the railroad bridge over the Bay have been completed.

The eastbound Gulf Wind will continue through Mobile to Jacksonville, Fla., while the Piedmont will have a three-hour lay-over in Mobile and (Cont. on Page 5-A.)

With mail orders beginning to arrive in quantity, as the result of last week's advertising campaign of the New Orleans Symphony Orchestra's second appearance in Bay St. Louis have placed advance tickets on sale at several downtown and Waveland locations.

Warning the public to be prepared for a sell-out and, in consequence, a definite shortage of tickets, the briefcase of the orchestra's visit is again stressed.

Two performances will be rendered on Monday, Oct. 25. One, a matinee is limited to elementary school children, whose tickets are being sold through the schools, and the other, the evening performance, as been programmed for high school students and adults. Both will be in the Bay High Gymnasium.

The City of Bay St. Louis works daily to improve the only present useable route to the West and Central Avenue. With traffic just about multiplied at least 100% since Besty's visit it's getting more dangerous daily. Two things would help... the worst hazard is where the old railroad spur was removed and now one installed at Industrial Remelling. Something more solid than red clay and gravel will have to be applied to really make noticeable improvement. Secondly, there are several cars which never seem to be notified Owen and White, the city's consulting engineers, that it was temporarily suspending construction here so its workers could speed emergency work in New Orleans and promised to give full attention to the Bay St. Louis job as soon as that is ended.

WRECKAGE - Wreckage of late model automobile driven by Harry Von Antz, 136 Avenue, Waveland, who miraculously escaped serious injury in the mishap which occurred around 5 p.m. Tuesday. Von Antz is reportedly in good condition at Hancock General Hospital.

Bay lures water into big city

Contractor for the city's water improvement project, James Gilliam, 28, of Bay St. Louis remains in custody at Hancock General Hospital, as the result of injuries sustained in an accident on Saturday.

William E. Edington, Jr., vice president of Owen and White, told the contractor that the city has commitments to have its new water and sewer system ready by August, 1966, and the pumping station is a most critical need for completion within 365 days. He wrote that by delay in the work he did not expect a complete stoppage.

City Commissioner of Utilities J. Cyril Glover said Tuesday he did not expect the action would hinder the water expansion program since sewer and water lines could not be laid simultaneously.

The federal government has approved interim financing for the water and sewer projects for which the voters have approved a $3 million bond issue. Glover said the first check for $750,000, an increment of 25 per cent of the total, arrived last Friday. After 75 per cent has been received in this form the city must advertise for sale of the bonds and deliver the proceeds to get the remaining money.

First periodic payments on the sewer work have been approved to C.O. Osborn Construction Co. of Birmingham, Ala., which holds this contract. They were $39,861.54 on contract 5-A, covering the northern part of the city, and $79,728.79 on 5-B, the central section. Work has not yet begun under 5-C, the southern section of the city.

Court hearing set in union dispute

U.S. District Judge Harold Cox has scheduled a hearing in his chambers in Jackson for next Thursday, Oct. 14, on a permanent injunction sought by the National Labor Relations Board against plumbers' union in a dispute over cryogenic systems at Mississippi Test Facility.

A temporary restraining order was issued by Cox last Thursday against the International Steamfitters and Plumbers Union on the petition of John Labus, director of the NLRB's 15th region. He said the union has been demanding since Sept. 23, the Nitrogen Oil Well Service Co. assign union workers to recharge two units serving the cryogenic systems.

The firm has been using four non-union workers on the job. The systems will be used to transport propellants to the booster rockets for testing here.

The NLRB charges tests cannot begin on schedule in January without use of the cryogenic systems. "Each day's delay constitute a delay in the space exploration program of the United States," the petition avers.

Employees of Allied Webb and Glantz Contracting Corps, have refused to service the Nitrogen company equipment.

Another labor difficulty at the test site is another awaiting determination by the Secretary of Labor, after going through various government channels. Some 400 members of Local 903, International Brotherhood of Electric Workers who walked off their jobs Sept. 24 returned to work the following Monday until it could be decided whether technicians not in the building trades union could be hired for work the electrical workers thought was theirs.

Crack down on teen speeders asked of survey

Better law enforcement against teen-age speeders is just one of the answers to "What, in your opinion, are the three most important things which need to be done to make this a better community?"

The question forms part of a Jaycee conducted community survey currently taking place within Bay St. Louis. With a target of one fourth of all the homes within the city, Jaycees are running slightly behind their original schedule but are overjoyed with the enthusiastic spirit of co-operation being shown by residents.

"The response is such that we are spending longer than expected on the survey," said Norton Haas, Jr., Chairman of the project, on Tuesday.

Jaycees intend to make all survey conclusions public upon completion of computations.

The new 1,500 line central telephone exchange in the communications center at Mississippi Test Facility was formally cut over into operation Wednesday at ceremonies attended by officials of NASA and Southern Bell.

The equipment was installed by Western Electric under supervision of Southern Bell and provides local and long distance service for more than 3,000 employees at the facility.

Claim docket leans toward redistricting

Some study toward redistricting Hancock County was reflected on the general fund claim docket for September which the board of supervisors approved Monday.

Bills included $100 from Weston and Wheat, surveyors, for locating a proposed beat line in the field and checking road mileage within that beat, and $40 for locating property owners in Beat 2. J. Roland Weston billed the county $5.50 for an aerial map of the Pearl-Lington area.

Three women drew $30 each for car hire for three days for taking a census. All from Beat 1, they are Mrs. Iona LaFontaine, Mrs. Doris Givens and Mrs. Eldredge Garcia.

In a not other redistricting sphere, supervisors directed publication in both local newspapers of a speech by Hampton King, state auditor, at the summer meeting of the state supervisor association. In his talk, King characterized the county-unit road plan as more centralization of government, lauded the supervisors as the last remaining vestige of grass root politicians and told them they should learn to "say no."

H.G. Dean, Beat 1 supervisor, requested the board's attorney, Lucien M. Gex, to read aloud the speech and then moved for its local republication. Jack Lott of Beat 4 seconded. The advertisement appears on Page 6-B.

The editor of the Sea Coast Echo, one of the plaintiffs in the current redistricting suit before the U.S. District Court, has editorially argued for a county-wide road system to remove one of the rural supervisors' arguments to the one-man, one-vote theory of representation which has been enunciated by the U.S. Supreme Court.

2 tests given to aid teaching retarded pupils

Pupils at the Children's Center, operated by the Hancock Assn. for Retarded Children, are being tested to determine their intellectual level so they can be properly grouped for teaching purposes.

The tests are being administered by a psychologist affiliated with the Ellisville State School and will be completed this Saturday. Results will be submitted later to Mrs. Irma Baker, principal of the center.

Pupils have been given the Stanford-Binet test which indicates at what grade level a child is capable of performing, and the Wide-Range Achievement Test which shows the level at which the child is currently performing. If this performance is below what the child should be able to do, it is an indication special education may help the pupil.

OPEN HOUSE

Open house will be conducted from 3 p.m. until 5 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 10, in the new Methodist parsonage at Pearlington, according to Mrs. Roy Baxter, chairman. Minister is the Rev. Percy Hatch.

BONNEVILLE CONVERTIBLE

The tiger scores again!

It's dramatically fresh and new, but still very, very Pontiac. That's written all over it, from the no-doubt-about-it new front end to the trimly tailored rear. (Did you think for one minute that we'd leave out the unique Pontiac styling character you like so well? Never!)

Another nice thing about the '66 Pontiacs is that there are more of them—3 new super-sumptuous Broughams and 4 Ventures. And, of course, for you other Pontiac lovers we've got a bright new Grand Prix, new Catalinas, new Star Chief Executives—all with new Wide-Track ride and improved cat-quick handling. But you'll discover those things when you slip behind the wheel and turn a new '66 tiger loose. Wide-Track Pontiac/'66 and again!

You're looking at the newest thing in tigers. Sleek, lean-muscled new style. New power that starts with a revolutionary new kind of six and ranges through four V-8's. Crisp curves shape the new silhouette, and the sports coupe sports a smartly recessed rear window.

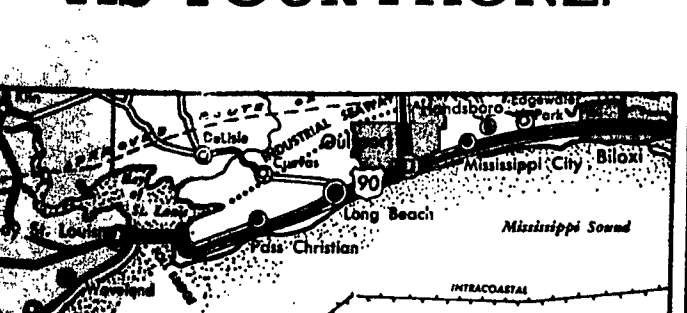

Pontiac's revolutionary overhead cam six acts more like a V-8, looks like no six you ever saw, and still remembers that saving is what six buyers buy sixes for. Delivers 165 hp (or you can specify the sports package which includes the 207-hp version). And it's standard on all Tempests, Tempest Customs and Le Mans V-8's. Up to 360 hp in the GTO. FOOTBALL HOOPLA - Big Mike Strong bounds through hoop held by Bay High cheerleaders immediately prior to Friday's game against Harrison Central going into second half. Bay High won outing, played at home, by score of 19-6. (Photo by H. Fayard, Jr.)

Mar perfect record

Tigers claw Rebels

Bay High's fighting football Tigers posted another win Friday to hold their second place slot in Gulf Coast Conference play but gave up a touchdown to Harrison Central's Red Rebels to mar their perfect record.

The Tigers won 19-6 after trailing at the half 6-0 the Rebels drawing first blood when Paul Wyrosdick fell on a Tiger fumble setting up the first score against the Tigers this season.

The Tigers returned from intermission with fire in their eyes and returned the opening kickoff to their 40. On the next play Dick Mestayer slipped through to the Rebel 32 and then to the 20. His pass to Mike Strong was good for 20 yards and six points with 8:25 left in the third quarter. Bruce Cox' kick was no good.

In the fourth quarter tackle Bruce Cox recovered a Rebel fumble on Bay High's 48 and on two successive plays Strong ran the ball to Harrison Central's 24. Mestayer went around and to the 16 and fullback Gary Fricks hit pay dirt from there. Cox' kick failed.

Later in the fourth Mestayer put the game on ice when he ran from his own 46 to the Rebels' 26 and passed to Strong for the score. Cox' kick found its mark and neither team was able to score thereafter.

The Tigers are 4-0-1 for the season and are scheduled to meet Long Beach there Friday night.

Bay High also lead in statistics getting 8 first downs to Harrison's 7. Other figures are passes att. BH 15, HC 7; passes comp., BH 6, HC 2; passes int. by, BH 0, HC 0.

crack Stone

The undefeated Bay High Juniors continued their bid for a perfect season beating Stone 20-12 on Monday in Tiger Stadium.

The Junior Tigers went into the final frame with a three touchdown lead, Mike Benigno accounting for two on runs of five and 55 yards. The third was added by Paul Wood on a five-yard run.

Mike Cave passed to Larry Continelli for one conversion and Jackie Strong passed to Continelli for the other.

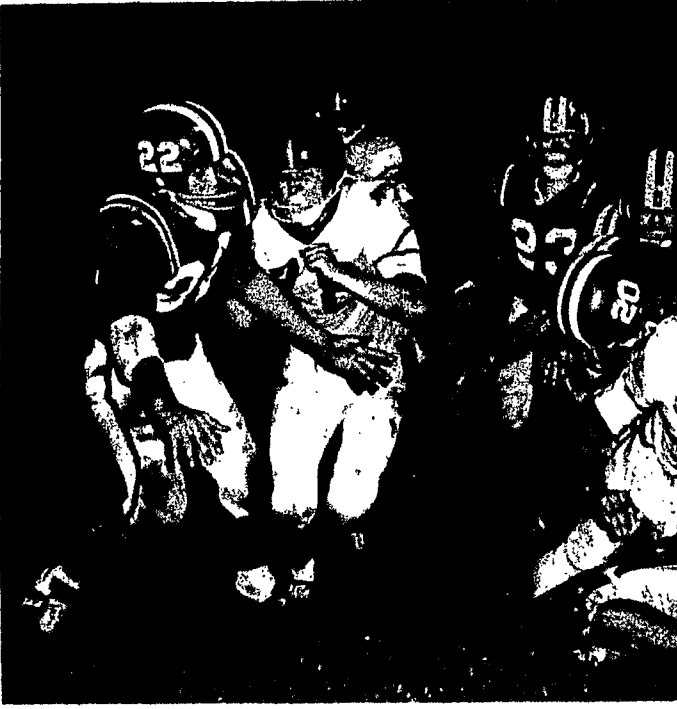

Stone came within striking distance in the last quarter scoring on a five yard run and a 50-yard pass interception.

Bay High's juniors are scheduled to travel to Pearl River Central tonight.

YACHT CLUB REPAIRS

Bay Waveland Yacht Club's board of governors has voted a $10 assessment on family and single adult members and $2.50 on juniors to raise funds to repair Hurricane Betsy's damage to the club, estimated at $12,000.

VCJ triumphs in Jones vs Jones

Coach Willie Bradley's rejuvenated Tigers had little trouble on Friday stomping W. H. Jones 40-6 at Hattiesburg. Although Harold Bell is still sidelined with a broken leg and Bidie Lee with a broken shoulder, Coach Bradley believes he can win the rest of the games this year handily, barring any more injuries. But Friday the Jones boys face probably their toughest foe this season, Poplarville, in Tiger Stadium. Poplarville is 4-0 overall favorite and 2-0 in conference play while VCJ is 2-1 overall and 1-1 in the conference. Poplarville is defending SMAC champ.

Jones' offense showed much improvement Friday. Troy Haynes breaking through tackle for the first score and James Peters diving off-tackle for the conversion. At the quarter it was 7-0.

Haynes scored again in the second period on a 25-yard screen pass from quarterback Robert Williams. Just before halftime Peters went 60 yards off-tackle to the enemy's five from where Williams scored on a keeper. Milton Collins converted on an off-tackle run and the half ended 20-0.

Peters scored again in the third quarter on a 10-yard run. The conversion failed and the Hattiesburg Jacks combined a series of running and passing plays to score six for their side but the conversion was no good. At three-quarter time it was 26-0.

VCJ scored twice in the final frame, once on a 50-yard pass by substitute quarterback Mitchell Fairley to Alexander Acker and again on a five-yard run by Collins. Acker converted twice on passes from Fairley.

Pearl River prepares to face Holmes

Pearl River Junior College's Wildcats stayed home last weekend licking their wounds, after having weathered some rough games this season, including their first defeat at the hands of Holmes at Goodman.

The Cats are scheduled to host the East Mississippi Junior College Lions from Scooba in Wildcat Stadium Saturday night.

Last weekend's open date was a blessing for several of the Wildcats who are suffering injuries. Hoping to get back into action Saturday are quarterback Danny Goehagen, who has been out with an injured hand; Carey Bennett who has been out for three weeks with a broken ankle and Joel Peeler who got a broken nose in the last game.

Central's Hawks drop sand on Long Beach

Scoring in every period Harrison Central's Hawks rolled to a 45-26 victory over a strong Long Beach squad Friday behind the outstanding play of Kenny Randall and Wendell Ladner.

The Hawks have been plagued by injuries this season and after beating Sumrall in the opener dropped successive games to Ocean Springs, Stone and Bay High. Coach Ezell Lee said his lads, weakened by these injuries, finally hit their stride Friday and hope to make a clean sweep of the remaining games. They are scheduled to play Harrison Central in Hawk Stadium this weekend then Pass Christian, Van Cleve, St. Martin and Pearl River Central.

The Hawks scored seven points in the first quarter, 13 in the second, 13 in the third and 12 in the fourth. Long Beach was scoreless in the first, managed 12 in the second and seven each in the third and fourth periods.

Randall started the scoring in the first going 11 yards a round left end, Ladner kicking the extra point. In the second frame Randall got off a spiral to Ladner for 25 yards and another TD. The kick was bad. Later in the period Ladner ran 10 yards for the Hawk's third tally and kicked the extra point. The same two were involved in the next TD when Randall passed to Ladner who lateraled to Paul Cuevas who scooted 20 yards across Long Beach's goal line. The kick was no good.

Shortly after half time Randall got off a 25-yard aerial to Mike Osteen who caught it on the five-yard line and ran backward over the goal line for another six-pointer but the conversion failed.

Randall accounted for the final tally going up the middle for five yards.

Long Beach fans rose to their feet as one when in the third period Phillip Carroll got away for 92 yards and a Bearcat touchdown.

Hamp King, State Auditor

(This article is based on a talk made at the convention at the Buena Vista in Biloxi August 9.)

Concerned as we all are about current trends in our national and state government, we cannot afford to forget that if there is to be good government anywhere, it must begin at the local level. In Mississippi, in the past and to a large extent at present, this means county government. Although the importance of municipalities in our state increases each year, county officials still constitute the most important group of "grass-roots" public servants we have.

Parenthetically, it has been heartening to this writer to see this year evidences of closer co-operation between county governing authorities and municipal governing authorities than has been seen in most years. To see the president, secretary, and executive director of the County Supervisor's Association as guests at the Municipal Association convention and the president and executive vice-president of the Municipal Association at the convention of County Supervisors makes one feel that all of us are pulling together in common cause to "fight for our share of tomorrow" to use Governor Johnson's phrase. It is a cause calling for the combined efforts of all our people and all our officials—state, county and municipal.

Among the 82 counties of our state there are great differences. The largest county in area is more than twice as large as the smallest, but the differences in other respects are much greater. Population varies from less than 4,000 in Issaquena County to almost 800,000 in Hinds; assessed property valuation ranges from about $5,500,000 in Stone County to almost $400 million in Hinds. There are differences in soil and terrain which make road maintenance problems in one area considerably different from those in another.

My personal feeling about these differences is somewhat like that of the drunk in the back of the room a number of years ago at a meeting where a speaker was paying tribute to the increasing participation of women in life outside the home.

"Today," the speaker thundered, "we have woman doctors," whereupon the drunk staggered to his feet and shouted "Hooray for women doctors!"

"Today we have woman lawyers," the speaker went on, and again came "Hooray for women lawyers!"

"In fact," concluded the speaker, "today there is very little difference between men and women."

In a supreme effort, the drunk pulled himself to his feet again to wave his hat and yell "Hurray for that H'l difference."

Variety, difference—these add interest to life and stimulate each of us to perform better than we otherwise would. Many people—myself among them at times—have sought uniformity in audit reports, to compare one year with another or one county with another, but too much uniformity is dull and deadening. Disagreement is often stimulating. I was interested—and glad—to see in a meeting with representatives of the Mississippi Economic Council recently, Director Eddie Khayat and Secretary Tom Virden of the Supervisor's Association state clearly and forcefully their position opposing the mandatory adoption of the county unit system of road construction and maintenance in all counties throughout the state. In some counties it has certainly worked well, and it may well do so in others, but to make it mandatory in all counties would be somewhat like making the city manager form of government mandatory in all municipalities throughout the state.

Our legislators, recognizing the differences among counties, have placed tremendous discretionary authority in the hands of county boards of supervisors. Failure to use that discretionary authority wisely will be an open invitation to more binding statutes and less adaptability to local needs. It's your discretion. Use it.

From the place where we in the office of the State Auditor and in the State Department of Audit sit, one of the prime requirements for a person to be a good county supervisor in Mississippi today is the courage and ability to say "No" when the occasion requires it. Anyone can spend money; the universal tendency seems to be to spend all we hope to get before we get it, and then if we don't get it, to leave some else to pay the bills. The federal government does that; it has the power to tax and regulate credit, but it doesn't all of us, one way or another, help to pay whatever it owes through increased taxes or purchasing power of the government or a county lacks that power; they are their bills just as individuals only final remedy for either to spend less or to raise taxes and for county supervisors more means raising tax assessments or both.

A supervisor needs to say "No" to constituents who favor, courteously but firmly, ten needs to say "No" to a tempted—whether by a use his office for personal political punishment of a posed him, or by pressure critics—of which every has an abundance. He needs to say "No" to a fellow who or other official who to resist temptation, certainly will need to say "No" to time to overrule supervisors who make mistakes. There's no point in making these people; they are make a buck like you.

The supervisor needs to say "No" in these cases: trying the trust of those who elected him to his best self and to his supervisors throughout the almost certain to be as a sucker or a crook who contributes to lowering public esteem.

A substantial number of Mississippi are in so far as operating the size or income of to make little difference. Some can think of at least smaller counties than those in the best financial condition, and I am certain they of others. Some of these are also among the financial condition, and don't plan their business always to have operating is needed. Much of lies in the willingness of supervisors and their what they can count on "No" instead of spending their counties receive public money without any value received.

Good county government is our state's vital concern. Supervisors who help high honor—and better a few who cannot say ardisse the good name of score sheet showed 13 first downs.

The Rocks stayed on the ground last weekend, amassing 226 yards rushing, with 20 first downs. Both pass attempts failed, one of them intercepted.

After a scoreless first quarter, Judlin intercepted a d'Iberville pass and ran it back 60 yards for a touchdown.

In the opening minutes of the second half Larry Boudreaux ran the ball from the mid-field strip to just short of the goal-line, fumbled and Bud Antin recovered it in the end zone for the tally. Antin then ran the extra point. Judlin's 18-yard run then pushed the Rock lead up to 19-0.

A 75-yard punt return by Judlin in the fourth, with Antin scoring the PAT, added seven more points. Bidie Boasberg capped the evening with a double reverse on left end from the 12-yard line.

Statistics showed Stanislaus penalized five times for 55 yards total while d'Iberville had two for 20 yards.
